PTO Meeting: November 14, 2018
at 9am in the LGI 2 (upstairs)

College Park High School PTO invites The Woodlands community and surrounding areas to attend our annual Eyes Wide Open program at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday November 7, 2018 at The Woodlands College Park High School Auditorium.

Come for an in-depth, informational evening that will answer questions about the challenges facing teens today on the topics of addiction – both online and drugs and alcohol, cell phone use and abuse, eating disorders, stress management and anxiety. There will be a presentation by our speakers and then an opportunity for them to answer your questions. We hope to open the lines of communication between parents and teens regarding these issues.

Featured speakers this year include:

- Dr. Alysia Robichau, M.D., Board Certified Family Medicine Physician, Houston Methodist, The Woodlands, works with CISD students: speaking on addictive tendencies including cell phone, online, eating disorders and drugs and alcohol.
- Traci Dempsey Schindewolf, MA, LPC and Derek Prins, MA, LPC: speaking on teen mental health, managing stress, addictions and eating disorders.
- Stacey Kreitz, MSW, Forensic Interview Specialist, Homeland Security Investigations: speaking on the role of Homeland in keeping students safe, the line between bad judgement and criminal activity, including cell phone use and online.

Due to the mature subject matter involved, we respectfully request that children 13 and younger do not attend.

A Humble Attitude

Watch Video: <https://safeshare.tv/x/KETKUyPfevo>

Cavalier Challenge: Many people think that being humble or having humility is a weakness. However, this is not true, a humble person is aware of his or her inner strength and value. Part of that strength is being open to new ideas and concepts from people you may disagree with on most things or people you might not like. Your challenge is to intentionally practice humility but listening to the people around you.

TAFE

Texas Association of Future Educators

College Park TAFE is working diligently to implement the TAFE Special Edition division for special needs TAFE members. Ashton Waguespack, Lauren Villarreal, Victoria Arp and Peyton Eisinger are paving the way for future TAFE special needs members. Ashton has chosen to not only be the leader of the team at College Park to implement the TAFE Special Edition Division, she is determined to have a positive impact on all TAFE Chapters across the state, thereby reaching special needs students across the state.

In her journey to assist TAFE in becoming more inclusive, Ashton decided to create demonstration videos. The “How To” videos assist special needs competitors learn about the different events available. The videos also give the students an idea of how one could develop a project for the different events. Ashton realized the videos may help special needs students have the courage and confidence to step out of their comfort zone and compete in a TAFE competition with the support of their other TAFE members.

The videos detail step-by-step directions for special needs students wanting to plan a TAFE project. She shares steps to take before, during and after the competition. In addition, Ashton shows completed project examples to give students a visual to accompany the auditory presentation of the video. Finally, Ashton presents a completed project to show how one could share one’s project with the judges.

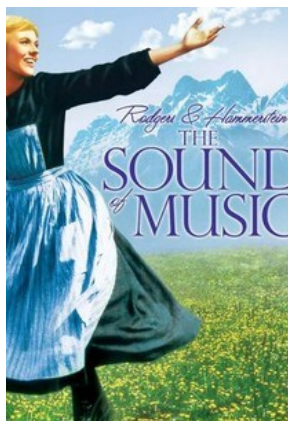

Not only has Ashton created the videos, she emailed a letter to the TAFE State Director, Mrs. Donita Garza, explaining the demonstration videos and her vision of how they may be an asset to other TAFE Chapters across the state. Mrs. Garza was so impressed with the videos, she posted them online as a resource for all TAFE Chapters in the state of Texas to encourage more chapters to include special needs students in the chapters as well as in their competitions through the TAFE Special Edition Division. Mrs. Garza stated the videos and Ashton are a “blessing to her and all students in Texas.”

Finally, Ashton is also creating a “How to Implement TAFE Special Edition Handbook” for advisors. The handbook details how to begin the new division on one’s campus. It includes the forms and resources created by College Park TAFE. Mrs. Donita Garza has stated as soon as it is ready, she would like to post it online at the state TAFE website as well for all advisors to access across the state. Lastly, Ashton will lead her team as they present the videos and handbook to TAFE members and advisors at the state conference in February, 2019.

Ashton’s dedication to support all TAFE members and her passion for people make her an outstanding example of future teachers going through the CP Education and Training program. Ashton represents the definition of a Cavalier! Through her character of compassion for all, she is helping advisors and TAFE chapters across the state make a shift in their view of competitions. It is an honor to have Ashton’s leadership at CP.
